Cemetery No. 806 — Riverview, Drayton Valley (J5)

NW-10-049-07-W5

This cemetery is situated just on the eastern edge of the town of Drayton Valley. It was started in the late 1960's when the Central Anglican cemetery in the middle of the town had no more lots for burials.

It is neatly laid out with a chain link fence, gazebo and benches for visitors. There are upright and ground level grave markers. The cemetery records are all complete and kept in binders at the town office. The Drayton Valley Branch of the Alberta Genealogical Society have excerpts of these records that may have additional information of a genealogical nature. These may be viewed at the Society's office in the Drayton Valley Museum.

One history book, "To Trails's End" by W.S.B. Loosmore, has been written about the early history of the area. Another book about the days after the finding of the oil in the area, is in the process of being written.

Members of the Alberta Genealogical Society, Drayton Valley Branch, completed the recording of 749 names of the this cemetery in 1997.

Cemetery No. 834 — Drayton Valley Anglican *, Drayton Valley (J5) SE-17-049-07-W5

This cemetery also sometimes known as “Central Cemetery” is located at 5208 - 50 Avenue in the town of Drayton Valley. This place of burial was started in 1927, when the wife of the settler died. He buried her on the quarter he owned. Since there was no cemetery nearby, and other deaths occurred, people used this spot to bury their loved ones. Some twenty years later an Anglican Church was built nearby and the congregation took charge of the cemetery and to keep records.

The cemetery is no longer in active use except for those who had a plot reserved many years ago. A neat fence surrounds the area. Some of the markers which are left are becoming quite weathered, but the grass is cut and the place is kept neat.

The records for this cemetery are presently kept in the town office. They consist of a hard cover record book and some file cards. The book is becoming quite tattered and fragile, but is planed to be rebound so pages will not be lost. There is also a map showing the plots, but due to different systems of recording over the years, the map may not be accurate.
